Miss Ross To Head HMS

Miss Neva Ross, soon to become the new principal of Horace Mann succeeding Miss Chloe Millikan, is constantly active in campus, church, and state activities.

Born and reared in Mound City, Miss. Ross received her B. S. degree in elementary education at NWMSC with minors in music and social science. She attended Columbia University, New York City, where she received her master's degree in 1949. She is also a graduate student of the University of California, Berkley; Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois; and the University of Kansas, Lawrence.

Miss Ross is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma sorority,

Kappa Chapter in St. Joseph, Missouri. She presently sponsors the Liahona Group, college church group of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. She also teaches an adult Sunday school class there.

At present Miss Ross is a faculty sponsor of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Among the many organizations she belongs to are: The American Association of University Professors; The American Association of University of Women; The Association for Student Teaching; The Association for Childhood Education, International; and The Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

In addition to her busy schedule, Miss Ross has found time to tour most of the United States and Canada. Her interests outside of the college are music, poetry and gardening.

We here at the Northwest Missourian wish her every success in her new position as principal of Horace Mann.

Although a U. S. Marine is well fed on three meals a day, his daily food bill costs the Government on the average of only $1.05.

Dr. Jones Announces Plans For Capital Improvements

President Jones has stated that work will be started on many of the programs and that several will be completed before school begins.

Before the resurfacing of roads, a $150,000 item, can be started, the State Highway Department will make studies, analyze them, and make evaluations.

Floor Covering — The third and fourth floors of the administration building will be covered with a permanent hard finish as was done to the first and second floors two years ago. This is expected to be finished by the time fall classes start. Cost, $12,500.

Language Laboratory — Layout and equipping a language laboratory will be done by the time school starts. Cost, $8,000.

Fire Risers — Water standpipes for better fire protection in the administration building. Planned for completion before fall classes. Cost $2,533.

Window Repair — For repairs of windows in the stairways of the administration building, to help keep out cold, by the installation of glass brick in the framing. Cost, $6,457.

Industrial Arts Building Addition — An addition for instruction in the graphic arts will be completed by the start of the second semester. Cost, $30,000.

Women's Gym Repair — To repair the roof and make other renovation by start of winter. Cost, $25,000.

Business Majors May Also Minor

According to Dr. Elwyn DeVore of the business department, students entering the business field may now major and minor in this division.

A maximum of 54 hours of the total of 125 hours required for graduation may be selected from the following five areas: finance and insurance; accounting; marketing; general business; or secretarial. This addition will go into effect September 13, 1961.

Remember the educational film previews in the library on Thursday night. Mr. Luke Boone, instructional material bureau director, will sponsor them.

Education Exams To Be Given

The Core Education Examination covering the foundational fields in professional education will be administered on July 28 from 1 to 3 p.m. under the direction of Dr. Thate, chairman of the education division. The Special Field Examinations, which are 4 hours in length, will be administered by the chairmen of the departments of business, education, English, physical education, and social science on July 31 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Upon completion of the written examinations, two hour oral examinations will be set for each student on August 2, 3, and 4.

The students who will participate in these examinations are ones who do not come under enrollment in the Cooperative Graduate Program with the University of Missouri.

Orientation Plans Are Under Way

Dean Koerble and his secretary are now at work formulating a plan which will cover activities during this fall's freshman orientation.

The busy week will begin the freshmen arrival on September 5. The dormitories and quadrangles will be open for student admittance at 9:00 a.m. of that day.

Dean Koerble stated that all freshmen who began college in either the spring or summer semesters of 1961 must be on hand to take all-freshman examinations and in addition, must complete the orientation class set for first year students.

Surrey Takes Year's Leave

Dr. Sterling Surrey, who will be taking a leave of absence for the following year, will be a "visiting lecturer" at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

The Surreys will be renting a furnished home during their stay in New England. Their two children will be attending a junior high school in Amherst. The family plans to return to Maryville June 1, 1962.

Miss Marilyn White, 1961 NWMSC graduate, will be attending the University of Massachusetts on an assistantship grant to complete her master's degree. Miss White will be living with the Surreys.

During Dr. Surrey's absence Dr. Elwyn DeVore will be acting chairman of the business department.

Methodists Initiate Long Range Program

The Wesley Foundation of Maryville is nearing a long-range goal of the construction of a new $75,000 building to house the activities of the Methodist student group.

The purchase of 1.1 acre of land has been announced by the Rev. Raymond Gass, director of the Foundation. The land is located between West Fourth and West Fifth Streets, being bordered by North Myrtle Street on the east and the Northwest Missouri State College campus on the west.

Tentative plans call for the new building to include a chapel, a library and conference room, two offices, a lounge, classrooms, a kitchen, a student apartment, a fellowship hall, rest rooms, a boiler room and storage space with outside recreational facilities.

A state-wide campaign is being planned to raise over $75,000 for the construction of the new building.

Officers of the board of directors of the Foundation are J. Norvel Saylor, chairman; Dr. H. D. Peterson, vice-chairman; Mrs. S. A. Montgomery, secretary; and Morris Chick, treasurer.

On July 29 a work party will be in the morning and swimming in the afternoon. Outdoor communion service will be held at 6 p.m. August 6.

Mr. Dieterich Attends National Meeting

Mr. H. R. Dieterich, president of the board of control, Missouri High School Activities Association, attended a meeting of the National High School Activities Association in French Lick, Indiana, July 2 through 5.

Mr. Dieterich is the director of student teachers at Northwest Missouri State College.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Should Phys. Ed. Be Required

Challenges to the physical education program have occurred in colleges and universities throughout the country in recent years. They have arisen primarily from the crisis which has enveloped our system of education since the Russians launched the race for outer space in 1957, but a second factor has been the rapid increase in enrollments faced by most of our colleges and universities.

One of the most serious challenges has to do with requiring physical education of all students for a given period during the undergraduate program. Many institutions have recently conducted reviews of this requirement.

Some of the basic issues found in these reviews were as follows:

Time was most frequently mentioned. Faculty appear to be trying to find more time for so-called academic work in already crowded student schedules by eliminating requirements considered by some to be not scholarly. Physical education has been singled out on this point.

The issue of elective versus required was raised. To some faculty, requiring anything in a free society is to be abhorred unless the need is demonstrable and great. To them, physical education does not meet these criteria. Subjects such as mathematics, history, chemistry, and foreign languages were cited as not normally required of all students; therefore, they ask, "Why should physical education be required?"

Another issue was scheduling problems caused when required physical education classes conflicted with classes offered in other departments. Some faculty were annoyed when physical educators took the choicest hours in the day and week for their classes.

The medical benefit of requiring physical education was also questioned.

No attempt will be made in this article to provide an analysis of the ways in which these issues were finally resolved in each situation. Let it suffice to say that physical educators in four of the five institutions reviewed were able to present arguments strong enough to have the requirements of physical education in their institutions retained substantially the way they were before the reviews took place.

IMPLICATIONS

The study was not broad enough to draw any generalizations. Its greatest value is the insight it provides into this important problem. This is one of the biggest problems which physical educators are forced to face.

Should physical education be required in the undergraduate program? How or where else can students learn enjoyable skills to use in their leisure time? In the summer program here at NWMSC, physical education teachers have been confronted with a majority of pupils who know nothing at all about many physical activities. In Coach Ryland Milner's bowling and golf class, only about three or four people had ever bowled and only one person had ever played a game of golf. Other physical education teachers could cite similar cases in their classes. In their required activity classes, students learn skills in which they can participate all their lives.

What do you readers think? Should physical education be a requirement?

A new apartment is being built in Colbert Hall.

People I'd Like to Meet

Almost everybody has at least one, and many quite normal people have several. Nervous habits range from nail-biting to table-pounding and may include the migraine headache and the irresistible urge of some people to "tidy things up."

1. A social economy enthusiast who will willingly talk about anything else.
2. A doctor who compliments me on the remarkably good physical shape I'm in.
3. A new car dealer who doesn't laugh when he sees my trade-in.
4. A train conductor who shares my concern about the locomotive which is swiftly bearing down on us from the opposite direction.
5. A taxi driver who doesn't ask me what I think of the weather.
6. A professor who says he's going to cover only pages 149 to 162 in the text next time—and does.
7. A beautiful coed who has no picture of herself in her wallet.
8. A neighbor's husband who brings his wife over to see the divine way in which I have prepared an exotic centerpiece out of some old dried seaweed and egg shells.
9. A football hero who doesn't mention his latest forward pass.
10. A professor who realizes that his class is not the only important one I am taking.

"East of Eden" Film To Be Last of Summer

John Steinbeck's "East of Eden" will be the last featured movie in the Den this Friday, July 28.

James Dean, Julie Harris, Ramond Massay, and Burl Ives star in this powerful, somber film of a tormented young man.

The 115 minute color film will be followed by a dance. Admission will be 25 cents. Cur-

James Dean plays the neurotic young man who feels his stern religious father rejects him and who subsequently searches out the residence of his mother, madame of a "house of ill repute" in a near-by California town.

Johnson, Trail to Wed August 4

Announcement has been made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Martha Ann Johnson, Agency, Mo., to Mr. Thomas R. Trail, St. Joseph.

The couple will be married August 4.

Maryville's first city tennis courts (1) were opened on July 5. Two doubles courts at Beal Park were financed largely by the Lions Club. Maryville city street crews (2) did most of the work of constructing them. (3)

The courts are fenced on the north and south.

Thus the city goes on to answer the perennial question of college students, "What's there to do in Maryville?" (4)

The question may be further answered with the statement, "Plenty — for those who are willing to exert themselves." (5) For example, there is a miniature golf course and a trampoline court by the A & W stand. (6) The Stroller took a turn (7) on the golf course a night or two ago, but she noted very few students there — and he's seen very few at other times. (8)

Is the reason some students find so little recreation that they don't want recreation? (9) Notes:

1. Utterly unlike a traffic court; of course, there is a lot of traffic; they say it's a ball.
2. Maryville does have a street department and a street crew.
3. The antecedent is courts, not Lions Club.
4. Quoting Hector Q. Squibble; Hector quit after taking the Orientation tests.
5. Who is?
6. The Stroller did not get any payola for this plug.
7. The truth is, he fell down on the trampoline.
8. Mainly, she hasn't been there herself. (10)
9. Like, some odd balls study.
10. The Stroller, she switches pronouns so the reader can't tell who he-she-it is/are.

Mrs. Cuddy has been instrumental in getting dishes and silverware for the girls as well as the coffee maker, fans, and two refrigerators added under her supervision.

Commenting on her past experiences with the girls of Roberta Hall, Mrs. Cuddy states, "I have enjoyed working with the girls very much and helping them with their problems. These ladies have been a real source of comfort to me since the death of my husband, and it is extremely gratifying for me to see the successful careers they are establishing for themselves."

Mrs. Helen Larsen, present director of Perrin Hall, will assume her duties as director

Five MSC Men Guide City Summer Recreation Program

NWMSM has added two coaches and two umpires for the city summer Little League.

Dale Cramer, Chillicothe, Missouri, who is also city summer softball little league director, is acting as coach for his third straight year.

Also coaching the Little League is Dan Neville.

Acting as umpires are Jon Baldwin and Dick Hicks.

Three hundred Little Leaguers in three leagues are taking part in the program this summer.

This is the largest participation in the history of the program. Age groups from third grade through freshmen play every day Monday through Saturday.

Introduced as a new innovation for the youngest age group, eight and nine year olds, is a batting tee whose purpose is to give a more satisfying experience in their first contact with baseball.

League plays are concluded and the League tournaments are now in progress. To the champions go individual medals. A sportsmanship trophy is also given annually to a Little Leaguer.

Cramer was graduated from NWMSM this spring with a degree in physical education and English. He has an assistantship at Carbondale, Illinois, this fall. He is married to the former Miss Gaye Laughery and he has one son. While attending college, he played varsity basketball and baseball.

Neville will coach at Waukee, Iowa, next year. He has a physical education major and a social science minor. He is married and the father of two children.

Baldwin, a varsity basketball player, is from Grundy Center, Iowa. He is married and a business and physical education major.

Hicks, from Maryville, is a varsity basketball player majoring in physical education and business.

These four men are also acting as umpires for adult softball leagues and the women's city softball team.

Dale Brown, MSC grad, is City Recreation Director for the third year. He is also in charge of the swimming pool, under his leadership has been the addition of shuffleboard, new tennis courts, and competitive swimming meets with out of town teams.

When a U. S. Marine Corps Infantry unit in San Antonio, Texas picked a local resident for the honorary title of "An Alamo Marine", their selection was John B. Connally, the Secretary of the Navy.

Bregin Plays KC Open Tennis Meet

John Bregin, Northwest State College tennis ace from St. Joseph, won his first two matches in the Kansas City Open tournament held recently at the KC Plaza courts.

The MIAA Conference champion battled Charles Crawford, Kansas City, in the longest match of the day — 2 hours and 15 minutes — before winning 2-6, 6-4, and 7-5.

In the third set, Bregin was down 2-5 when he went to 30-all and won the eighth game, and went on to win the set.

Bregin was defeated in the quarter-finals by Ed Doane in a 6-1, 6-1 verdict.

Blood Doners List In Seventh Year

For the past seven years NWMSM has maintained a voluntary blood donor list.

Students volunteer to donate blood when needed for emergencies at St. Francis Hospital or other area hospitals. No money is received for these contributions.

Don Schooler will supervise these activities in the absence of Dr. Sterling Surrey, who will be in Massachusetts for the next year.

Final Seminar

The final summer session seminar and coffee hour for graduate students is scheduled for Wednesday, July 26, at 2:50 p.m. in the J. W. Jones Union Lounge.

At this seminar planning for Saturday classes next year will be discussed. The graduate students will also consider the possibility of initiating a graduate student organization on campus.
